WRITTEN AT MY MOTHER'S GRAVE.

BY GEORGE D. PRENTICE.

The trembling dew drops fall
Upon the shutting flowers; like souls at rest
The stars shine gloriously; and all
Save me are blest.

Mother, I love thy grave!
The violet, with its blossoms blue and mild,
Waves o'er thy head; when will it wave
O'er thy child?

'Tis a sweet flower, yet must
Its bright leaves to the morning tempest bow;
Dear mother, 'tis thine emblem; dust
Is on thy brow.

And I could love to die;
To leave untasted life's dark bitter streams,
By thee, as erst in childhood, lie,
And share thy dreams.

And I must linger here,
To stain the plumage of my sinless years,
And mourn the hopes to childhood dear,
With bitter tears.

Aye, I must linger here,
A lonely branch upon a withered tree,
Whose last frail leaf, untimely sere,
Went down with thee!

Oft from life's withered bower,
In still communion with the past, I turn,
And muse on thee, the only flower
In memory's urn.

And when the evening pale
Bows, like a mourner, on the dim blue wave,
I stray to hear the night winds wail
Around thy grave.

Where is thy spirit flown?
I gaze above—thy look is imaged there!
I listen, and thy gentle tone
Is on the air.

Oh, come, while here I press
My brow upon thy grave; and, in those mild
And thrilling tones of tenderness
Bless, bless, thy child!

Yes, bless your weeping child;
And o'er thine urn, religion's holiest shrine,
Oh give his spirit, undefiled,
To blend with thine.

[SELECTED FOR THE FREEMAN.]

THE VISIT OF FORTUNE.

Weary with play, a gentle boy
Lay down awhile to rest,
When Fortune came, with gifts of joy,
And bade him choose the best:
"But heed thee, child, choose once and well,
I move by wizard time,
A moment—and I weave my spell
Far in another clime."

Light in that urchin's glances burned
And gladness overmuch,
As one by one each toy he turned
Beneath his curious touch;
Now this contents his changing will,
Now that his eyes pursue;
Pleas'd, he retaineth one—until
Another charms his view.

But as the youth the glittering store
Surveyed in doubt profound,
The mystic wand which Fortune bore
Dial'd the moment round;
True to the time, the Maid of Fate
Fled with her gifts of cost,
And left the boy to mourn, too late,
The prize forever lost.

Oh! ye of manhood's pond'ring dreams,
Whose pulses bound with health,
Waste not your hours o'er changing schemes
Of speculating wealth!
Hold fast on what, considered well,
Your heart and judgment fix,
And you will never have to tell
Of Fortune's fickle tricks.

An Eloquent Appeal.

REMARKS OF HON. GEORGE H. PENDLETON.

DELIVERED AT A CONCERT FOR THE BENEFIT OF ST. MARY'S HOSPITAL, CINCINNATI.

[From the Cincinnati Enquirer.]

The announcement that there would be a concert given for the benefit of St. Mary's Hospital, drew a large and splendid audience together at the Mozart Hall last evening. We are most happy to state that the whole thing, taking the singing and the contributions, was a decided success.

The audience were taken somewhat by surprise after the conclusion of the concert on being addressed by the Hon. George H. Pendleton, introduced by Frank Grever, President of the Catholic Institute, who spoke as follows:

This crowded house, these overflowing benches, show how superfluous is my part in the exercise of this evening. I intended to have exhorted you to the abundant deeds of a liberal charity; but your munificence changes my appeal to words of praise and congratulation, that you enjoy, even now, that "twice blessed" mercy, which blesses him that "gives and him that takes." You have ministered to the comfort of the sick and the suffering. You have gladdened the hearts of those holy women whose charity is limited only by the bounds of utmost possibility, and you have given to yourselves the satisfaction of having done a good deed.

This institution deserves, indeed, your most cordial and liberal support. It is a noble, a magnificent charity.

Its grounds are not spacious, its walls are not lofty, its rooms are too few in number, but such as it is, it is all their own. Not a dollar of debt impairs its usefulness. One hundred beds are always ready for their occupants. Men and women of every age, and condition, and race, and nationality, and residence, and color, and religion, whatsoever their disease, find, without money and without price, care and comfort within its protecting walls. The form of humanity, the sufferings of sickness, these are the only necessary passports; and before these, on the instant, as if moved by the instincts of the place, the doors themselves do open wide. No one applies in vain—black and white are alike admitted. The frail and delicate woman, worn out with sin and suffering, a stranger alone in our crowded streets, starving amidst plenty, who falls by chance exhausted at the door, is welcome as the rich man whom friends attend and servants bear. Youth struck down in vigorous strength, manhood wasting by long continued fevers, old age sinking in its feeble steps under the load of accumulating infirmities, alike seek refuge there.

From the low prayer of want and plaint of woe
They never, never turn away the ear—
Forlorn in this bleak wilderness below
Oh! what were man should Heaven refuse to hear?

And once admitted, all are alike fed and clothed, till, health recovered, strength renewed, they are dismissed with a blessing, to go forth with courage and good heart to the business of life.

There all that science and skill can do is done to restore to health; there all that patient kindness can do is done to assuage the pains and alleviate the sufferings of disease; and there, when science, and skill, and kindness have been in vain, all that a holy religion can suggest—all that the tenderest sympathy can apply—is done to soothe the agonies of that supreme moment when the soul takes leave of corruption, and mounts on immortal wings to fulfill the appointments of the Almighty.

There peace, and order, and repose, and quiet prevail, and the ministrations of mercy, hallow affliction to the mysterious offices for which it is permitted by the Great Beneficence.

The history of this institution is full of stimulant and encouragement; without one dollar of endowment, without one dollar of property, these ladies—the Poor Sisters of the Order of St. Francis—have, by the contributions they have solicited from day to day, since 1860, built up this edifice, kept it constantly in repair and order, supported the daily expenses of its inmates, and contributed more than $3,000 to the branch hospital in Covington. The building was finished for use in January, 1861—just six years ago—and thirty-one hundred patients and more have been admitted to its blessings. During the last year, seven hundred and ninety-one have been taken care of in its rooms; and though all who applied were to some extent succored, many were refused admittance, because there was no room.

Twenty-six old persons—twelve women and fourteen men—who have passed for more than ten years the allotted three score and ten, not sick, but feeble, worn out, yielding to decrepitude, deaf or blind, or almost helpless, have here, in peace and repose and plenty, a home for their few remaining days. I saw them as in mid-afternoon of a bright warm day, they read, or chatted, or dozed away, each as his humor prompted, and I bowed in reverence before the charity which secured the cheerfulness of their homes and the brightness of their hearts.

In other words, I saw the shattered limb rest, the burning fever cooled, and the cold chill arrested, and the pain of the harsh cough palliated, the thick breathing of the congested lungs relieved, and amid all, the kindling eye, the grateful glance, the smile, which no suffering could entirely repress, told of uniform kindness and patience and sympathy.

All this has been accomplished by the persevering efforts of a few devoted women. They need more money. They want a larger hospital—more wards, more beds, more room and more medicines.

They do all the work; they perform every menial labor; they cook and nurse and watch; they prescribe; they compound all prescriptions; they ask no relief for themselves; they ask no assistance in their labors. They only ask for room in which to lodge the sick, and medicines with which to cure, and food with which to nourish, and clothes with which to cover them.

Gentlemen! Shall they ask in vain?

Shall our beautiful city—great in numbers, in wealth, in public spirit—more abounding than most cities in the palaces in which trade transacts its daily business, and commerce counts its gains—shall Cincinnati permit these heroic women to ask in vain? In the midst of these towering edifices—of stores and residences, and churches and theatres, and music halls and opera houses, and saloons where art ministers to every taste, and expenditure gratifies every whim—I will not believe it.

And they are heroic women. They are members of an order which, in every age, in every country, under every circumstance, for a thousand years has added luster to the name of woman. No danger can appal them. No apprehensions can frighten them. No difficulty can deter them. In the chambers of the sick, amidst the groans of the dying; in the haunts of poverty and vice; among the victims of crime; in the walks of the pestilence, touching the contagion; wherever our suffering humanity has needed them, there they have gone, trusting in God, fearing no evil. And though many have fallen victims to the death which they braved, the perennial freshness of their blessed memories has stimulated many others to emulate the virtues of their holy lives.

Consecrating themselves to the duties of an active charity, they imitate the life of their Master. Like him they "go about doing good;" like him they devote themselves to self-denial and poverty, that knowing our trials, and troubles, and sufferings, they may "be touched with the feeling of our infirmities."

The spirit which lent prophetic power, and "touched Isaiah's hallowed lips with fire," opened to him the visions of millennial glory, "when the lion and the lamb should lie down together, and a little child should lead them," when they should not hurt nor destroy in all the holy mountain.

I do not know how this may be, in fact, realized to all of us, but I am sure the reign of that blessed peace has its prototype and illustration within the sacred wall of charities such as these, under the superintending care of these devoted women. Gentlemen, the causes, the call, the times, the necessities, the hopes, demand that of our abundance we be liberal, and if we are, the sick will thank us, the good will praise us, and our own hearts will be glad in the presence of the joys of that God who "loveth a cheerful giver," of Him who said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

MUNCHAUSEN OUTDONE.—A California paper gives a rather hard-to-believe story of the depth of the snow on the Sierra Nevada mountains in February and March, by describing the visit of a merchant named Adams from the valley to the mining town of Meadow Lake, on the top of the mountains! He procured a pair of snow-shoes, and took the tracks of some who had gone over the day before. After some hours of hard travel he arrived where the town should be, but not a house was visible. While he was looking around, a man suddenly came up out of the snow, like a mermaid out of the sea. Adams asked the man if he could tell him where Meadow Lake was, not knowing as yet whether the object before him was a man or a spirit. "Why," said the fellow, "you are right on the place." Adams asked if he could show him where the store of Adams & Johnson was. "Oh, yes! come along." A few shoves on a pair of snow-shoes soon brought them to a round hole in the snow, and Adams was told that that was the hole which led to the store. There were stairs made in the snow like a spiral way, twisting several times around the whole in making the descent. Finally he arrived at the bottom, and was astonished to find his friends there; happy and gay, and ready to vouch for the country being one of the richest ever discovered. From the store they traveled over the town through tunnels. Every one seemed to be contented with his lot. The citizens seldom go to the top of the snow, except when there is a snow-shoe race, at which the whole town turns out.

A FARMER in Saratoga county, New York, has lifted a barrel containing one hundred and forty-five pounds of sugar with his teeth, after which he offered to bet twenty-five dollars that he could lift it with twenty-eight more pounds in it.

THE greatest organ in the world—the organ of speech in women; an organ, too, without a stop.

A SINGULAR STORY.

The Milwaukee Sentinel vouches for the following remarkable incident:

"Near one of our grain warehouses situated on the river bank, large swarms of rats have been in the habit of feasting on the wheat which has been scattered around. A few days ago a terrier getting wind of the rendezvous, made an attack upon a couple of rats that had ventured too far into the open air. Seizing one in its teeth, it shook it vigorously. The rat squealed piteously, attracting to the spot a dozen or more companions. These, on seeing the situation of affairs, joined in raising the alarm. In less time than it takes to tell the incident, the ice around was black with a swarm of rats, numbering several hundreds. The terrier, after dispatching the first victim, charged into the swarm with the evident determination of serving the remainder in like manner. But for once a terrier was doomed to meet with fight from the poor animals he had so long devoured at pleasure, and in a trice he was surrounded on all sides by a swarm of ferocious brutes anxious to be avenged for the death of their companion. Then ensued the most frightful scene imaginable. The rats swarmed around their adversary and fastened their claws and teeth into his flesh. The dog, enraged by the pain, fought bravely, killing scores of his enemies in his contest for life. But the odds against him were too great, and after a sharp conflict, which lasted for about five minutes, he was forced to succumb. His body was literally devoured by the rats, they seeming to take a savage pleasure in tearing their vanquished enemy to piece-meat. Scarcely a vestige of the animal remained behind. The terrier died game, however, for there were about half a hundred rats left upon the field, bleeding and mangled, and as many more or less injured.

"A singular instance of the kindliness of dumb animals to their fellows was noticed at the conclusion of the combat. A number of the combatants had been somewhat lacerated by the teeth of the dog. Their companions gathered in groups around them, licked the blood from their wounds, and then tenderly carried them in their teeth to their nests. The bodies of the slain were as tenderly cared for. One by one they were carried away to a hole in the ice near by, where they were piled up. When all the bodies had been gathered together, the survivors grouped around them, and one of the number, mounting upon the pile of bodies, seemed to deliver a brief funeral oration over the remains of their companions. The utmost stillness reigned among the company during the address of their chief. The whole company then proceeded to tumble their dead companions into the water, where they soon sank from sight. In half an hour scarcely a vestige of the conflict remained. This burial service was the most extraordinary instance of the kind we have yet observed, and is well deserving of the study of naturalists. The fight as a whole would have delighted sporting men and dog fanciers. It was highly interesting to the few who observed it."

A FUNNY matrimonial affair recently occurred near Spirit Lake, Minnesota. A green justice married three couples in one batch, and about four weeks afterward discovered that a license from the clerk of the court was necessary to make the ceremony legal, and he lost no time in informing the parties that they were still single, though they had lived together the intervening time. The first couple were willing to risk the consequences; the second consented to be re-married; while the third, having discovered in each other divers and sundry shortcomings, refused to have the knot re-tied—being satisfied with one month of matrimony, and glad to revert to single blessedness.

A SAFETY smoke-stack for locomotives, has been invented by a Nashville mechanic, who has applied for a patent. His smoke stack is so constructed that no sparks are emitted from the top of the stack, a shute being fixed to carry them downward, and they fall harmless upon the earth beneath the locomotive, thus insuring safety to articles of a combustible nature on the train or in its immediate vicinity.

A LADY asked a gentleman the other day, why so many tall gentlemen were bachelors? The reply was that they were obliged to lie crosswise in bed to keep their feet in, and that a wife would be in the way.

WHAT is the difference between a pretty girl and a night-cap? One is born to wed, and the other is worn to bed.

THE CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

EBENSBURG, PA.

THURSDAY, : : : JUNE 20, 1867.

R. L. JOHNSTON, - - - EDITOR.
H. A. McPIKE, - - - - PUBLISHER.

FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT:

HON. GEORGE SHARSWOOD,
Of Philadelphia.

Democratic County Convention.

The Democracy of Cambria county are requested to meet in their several election districts, on Saturday the 29th day of June, instant, for the purpose of selecting delegates to represent said districts in a Democratic County Convention, to be held at the Court House in Ebensburg, on Monday the 1st day of June next, to nominate a Democratic County Ticket. GEO. C. K. ZAHM,
Chairman Democratic Co. Com.

Circulate the Documents.

One of the wisest acts of the late Democratic State Convention was the adoption of a resolution urging upon every member of the party the necessity of aiding in the extension of the circulation of the Democratic papers published in their respective counties. The main cause of the success of the Radical party can be traced to the fact that the press has been used without stint for the dissemination of the pernicious doctrines of that party, and many of the rank and file, as well as the more prominent members of that organization, have labored zealously to extend the sphere of the newspapers representing them. We venture to say that there is scarcely an intelligent radical in this county who is not a subscriber to one or other of the radical organs published within its limits. Can as much be said for the Democratic masses? We fear not. Let them learn a lesson from their opponents in this particular, and our word for it the State and nation will not be much longer afflicted with the blighting curse of radicalism.

In the hope of placing the FREEMAN in the hands of every Democratic voter in Cambria county, we propose to accept campaign subscribers, and for seventy-five cents, paid in advance, will agree to furnish our paper from the 4th of July to the 4th of November, to each and all who will subscribe in this way. We solicit our friends throughout the county to urge this matter upon such of their Democratic neighbors as do not take a county paper, and if they cannot induce them to subscribe for the year, at least endeavor to persuade them to become subscribers for our campaign paper.

Soldiers' Bounties.

Notice has been given by the proper Department at Washington that, owing to the failure of the Rump Congress to make any appropriation for the purpose, the payment of bounties due to white soldiers has been discontinued. It has been frequently charged upon the radicals that their professed love for the soldiers was only intended as a bait for their votes, and though the oft repeated assertion has been as frequently denied, this failure to make provision for the adjustment of the additional bounties due to soldiers is evidence sufficient of the insincerity of radical professions in their behalf. Let it be borne in mind, however, that it is only white soldiers who have been thus "left out in the cold." The "wards of the nation" were not only granted $300 bounty, but funds were appropriated without delay for the payment of those bounties. It will be time enough to play sharp on the negroes when they are invested with the right of suffrage and their votes have been secured for the radical party.

Hon. George Sharswood.

We place at the masthead of the FREEMAN to-day the name of this distinguished jurist and accomplished gentleman, as the Democratic candidate for Supreme Judge. We shall give a short sketch of his past life and his public services in a future number. The best feeling prevailed in the Convention which nominated him—everything was harmonious, and is a prestige of the success which awaits us in the coming campaign.

Our opponents concede the highest legal attainments and the most unblemished reputation to our candidate, and admit that the interests of all parties will be safe in his hands. We trust the radicals may make an equally good nomination, (if that were possible,) and then the contest would be one of principle entirely.

BEN. WADE seems, by a recent speech, to be in favor of a division of property both North and South.

Democratic State Convention.

This body, as briefly announced by us last week, assembled in the Representative Hall of the Capitol at Harrisburg, on the 11th inst., and was called to order by Hon. W. A. Wallace, Chairman of the State Executive Committee, who made a brief but admirable speech, in which he reviewed the progress of political events since his advent, two years since, to the position he has filled with such eminent ability and untiring energy. At the conclusion of Mr. Wallace's remarks the Convention was temporarily organized by inviting Hon. Daniel M. Fox, of Philadelphia, to the chair and appointing five other gentlemen Secretaries pro tem., after which a ballot for permanent Chairman was ordered and resulted in the election of Hon. C. E. Boyle, of Fayette county. The organization was subsequently completed by the report of the Committee, appointed for that purpose, naming a number of gentlemen as Vice Presidents and Secretaries of the Convention. On assuming the duties of President Mr. Boyle delivered a neat and eloquent address, which was received with great enthusiasm, after which the Convention adjourned until 3 o'clock p. m.

On re-assembling in the afternoon, and after waiting some time on the Committee on Resolutions, the Convention was addressed by Wm. D. Moore, Esq., of Allegheny, and at the conclusion of his speech, the expected Committee not having yet appeared, it was resolved to proceed to the nomination of a candidate for Supreme Judge. The names of Hons. John W. Maynard, of Northampton, James Ryan, of Schuylkill, George Sharswood, of Philadelphia, James H. Graham, of Cumberland, Walter H. Lowrie, of Allegheny, Rob't J. Fisher, of York, Gaylord Church, of Crawford, Benj. Grant, of Erie, Geo. W. Woodward, of Luzerne, C. L. Pershing, of Cambria, and Wm. Elwell, of Columbia, were then offered for nomination. Judge Woodward and Hon. Henry D. Foster were also named, but afterwards withdrawn. The Convention then proceeded to vote viva voce, but there being no choice, a second ballot was ordered, and after the withdrawal of the names of Messrs. Lowrie, Grant, Church, Graham, Pershing and Elwell, another vote was taken, and resulted as follows:

|---|---|
| George Sharswood received - - | 35 votes. |
| John W. Maynard - - - - - | 15 " |
| James Ryan - - - - - - - | 11 " |
| Robert J. Fisher - - - - - | 9 " |

Hon. George Sharswood was thereupon declared the nominee of the Convention for the office of Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

At this juncture of affairs Judge Black appeared with the Committee on Resolutions, and after paying an eloquent tribute to the character and abilities of Judge Sharswood, moved that his nomination be made unanimous, which was accordingly done by acclamation.

A resolution was then offered that Hon. Wm. A. Wallace be continued as Chairman of the State Central Committee, which elicited some discussion, but upon a resolution being substituted that the Convention proceed to the election of a Chairman of said Committee, Mr. Wallace was nominated and chosen by acclamation. The thanks of the Democracy of Pennsylvania were then tendered him by resolution, and the opinion expressed that higher honors await him. A motion was subsequently made that the term of the State Central Committee be extended to the first of January, 1869, and although objected to on the ground that the Convention had no right to tie the hands of the Convention of 1868 in this matter, the resolution was adopted by a vote of 51 yeas to 45 nays. The other members of the State Central Committee were then named by the different delegates, after which the Committee on Resolutions, whose protracted session it was surmised was owing to a discussion as to the propriety of endorsing President Johnson, upon which question they wisely maintained silence, offered the following

PLATFORM.

We, the delegates of the Democratic party of Pennsylvania in general State Convention assembled, for the nomination of a candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court, profoundly grateful to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe for the return of peace to our beloved country, but deeply anxious on account of the trials and delays which impede the complete restoration and reunion of all the States, and appreciating the dangers which still threaten the safety of our political institutions, and the future peace, liberty and prosperity of the people, resolve,

1. That we steadfastly adhere to the principles of civil Government established by the founders of the Union; and in the present conflict of legislative usurpation with constitutional law, we esteem a wise, upright and fearless judiciary the great bulwark of public liberty and individual right.

2. That the Union of the States is perpetual, and the Federal Government supreme within its constitutional limits.

3. That Representation in the Congress of the United States, and in the electoral college, is a right fundamental and indestructable in its nature and abiding in every State, being a duty as well as a right pertaining to the people of every State and essential to our Republican system of Government. Its denial is the destruction of the Government itself.

4. Each State having under the Constitution the exclusive right to prescribe the qualifications of its own electors, we proclaim as a usurpation and an outrage the establishment of negro suffrage in any of the States by the coercive exercise of Federal power; and we shall resist to the last resort the threatened measures of the leaders of the Republican party to interfere by acts of Congress with the regulation of the elective franchise in the State of Pennsylvania.

5. That we are opposed to any amendment of the Constitution of the State giving to negroes the right of suffrage.

6. That the failure of the Tariff Bill in the last session of the late Congress, more than three-fourths whose members belonged to the Republican party, is an illustration of their infidelity to their pledges and their neglect of their professions in relation to the great industrial and financial interests of the country.

7. That the Radical majority in Congress, and those who sustain them, have overthrown the Constitution, dismembered the Federal Union and subverted republican government by a long series of usurpations, among which are the following:

Their denial of the right of States of the Union to representation in Congress.

Their treatment of ten States as subjugated provinces, and governing them by military force in time of peace. Their enactment of laws denying indemnity for arrests and false imprisonments made without authority of law.

Their resistance of the authority of the civil tribunals, and their overthrow by the substitution of military commissions for the trial of undefined offenses.

Their efforts to destroy the executive and judicial departments of the Government by the threatened impeachment to control executive action, and a projected "remoddelling" of the Supreme Court of the United States to force obedience to Congressional mandates.

Their ejection from their seats in the Federal Senate and House, of members duly and legally chosen.

That the purpose of confiscation in violation of the Declaration of Rights and other guarantees of the Federal and State Constitutions, tending as it does to destroy all protection to private property, advances them far on the high road to repudiation.

8. That a strict conformity, both by the Federal and State Governments, to all the powers, restrictions and guarantees, as contained in the Constitution of the United States, a rigid and wise economy in the administration of public affairs, and the election of capable, honest and patriotic men to office, are measures absolutely necessary to restore public confidence, avert national bankruptcy, and to ensure the perpetuity of our free institutions.

9. That the late Republican Legislature of this State has distinguished itself for the number of its unwise and unconstitutional enactments. Some of these laws have already been judicially determined to be unconstitutional, others are unwise, inexpedient, oppressive and fanatical, and the members who sustained them should be condemned by the people at the polls.

10. That the candidate we this day presented to the people of Pennsylvania for a place on the Supreme Bench of the State, is in all respects worthy of the confidence and support of all who are in favor of an enlightened, faithful and impartial administration of the laws.

11. That the Democracy of Pennsylvania, by their representatives now assembled, hereby tender their acknowledgments and thanks to the Hon. George W. Woodward in his retirement from the position of Chief Justice of this Commonwealth, for the pure, faithful and able manner in which he discharged the duties of that exalted position.

THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS.

Mr. VAUX, of Philadelphia, submitted the following resolution, which was adopted by acclamation; and ordered to be incorporated in the platform of the Convention:

Resolved, That the power and success of the Democratic party greatly depends on the character and efficiency of its newspaper press, and that to give due force to its usefulness, this Convention earnestly request that in every county all the members of the Democratic party should make a vigorous effort to increase its circulation by giving it individual patronage and support.

The above resolutions were received with unbounded enthusiasm throughout, and at times, especially during the reading of the seventh resolution, with tumultuous cheering.

After the appointment of a committee to wait on Judge Sharswood and inform him of his nomination, and the adoption of a resolution of thanks to the presiding officer, the Convention adjourned sine die.

—Four brothers, railroad thieves, have been arrested in Chicago. The plan was to detail one of their number for duty in Chicago, to enter the box cars just before they were to be locked, where he would secrete himself and await release from another brother, who had procured duplicate keys to all the cars used, and who would await the arrival of the train at a way station, en route. When the cars had reached a given point, which had been agreed upon, and which should be the rendezvous of another of the family provided with a team, the door was quietly opened, valuable parcels pitched out upon the ground, and the man with the train would then leap from the car and assist in securing the property.

MacShane in Washington.

LETTER NUMBER FIVE.

Next morning, after enjoying an excellent breakfast, worth, in the opinion of the landlord, one dollar, I wended my way to the Capitol. I think I am safe in saying that this building, with all its additions and the unused material still in its neighborhood, contains more marble than any other building in the world. The great difficulty with a stranger is that he might as well undertake to thread the fabled labyrinths of Crete as to pass through the various mazes of this building without a guide. I, however, got into the enclosure—passed up the gravelled walk—viewed the various shrubbery which decorated the Capitol grounds—approached and leant over the classic fountain which would have furnished a dainty home for a Naiad Queen in the days of heathen mythology. In short, I gazed to satiety upon all the surroundings, or rather the frontings of the Capitol, and lying between it and Pennsylvania Avenue. I then turned my gaze upon the Capitol building itself, as it loomed up before me in its magnificent proportions. I looked up to it till my neck was pained with its position. I gazed upon its proportions—took in its angles, its cornices, its niches, until my vision wearied with the continued sight of marble—marble—marble—without any softer substance for them to rest upon. I experienced a dizziness, and sat down and rested on the first step of the Capitol.

How to get through the building puzzled me, and I seriously regretted that I had not a certificate of election to Congress in my pocket, which would have been a sort of letter of introduction within the marble walls before me. I concluded, on reflection, to take the building fairly in front—ascended the steps from the fountain to the landing above and found myself in the vestibule of the building. I pursued my way until I found myself in what I knew must be the rotunda. This room, if so it could be called, was a polygon in shape, each side or panel representing an historical painting. "The Capture of Cornwallis," "Gen. Washington Surrendering his Commission," "The Baptism of Pocahontas," "The Settlement of the Mississippi Valley by De Soto," and other works of art filled the various panels, about a dozen in number.

A statue as large as life and as ugly as sin stood in the centre of the rotunda, which might have been worshipped without fear of infringing on the Decalogue. Thus it is that Lincoln fills the centre space in the nation's Capitol, while WASHINGTON, and other inferior heroes and statesmen, get a niche around the edges.

Observing sundry persons moving in a certain direction I incontinently followed, and soon found myself in the Court Room of the Supreme Court of the United States. There sat the nine Judges—the Chief Justice, with his plain and impassive features; to his right Judge Wayne, an amiable but not an able man, Judge Grier, of Pennsylvania, an intellectual and physical giant, Davis, the friend and appointee of Lincoln, and Miller; on his left sat the able and accomplished Judge Nelson of New York, next to him the corpulant and pleasant form of Nathan Clifford, then Swayne of Ohio, and lastly, the comparatively youthful features of Judge Field, the last appointee of President Lincoln, who recently decided the test oath to be unconstitutional. These Judges, dressed in their black robes of office, present a very solemn and impressive appearance. Before this imposing tribunal was being argued the case of ——; well, the Spanish names have escaped my memory, but it involved the title to a portion of San Francisco. The pliff. had secured the services of Messrs. Black, Evarts, Coffey and Brent, while Atty. Gen. Stanberry, Curtis, Carlisle and Stewart of Nevada appeared for the defendants.

I had the pleasure of hearing the concluding argument, which was made by Judge Black, and, like all his efforts, was masterly and exhaustive. It was difficult to say whether his argument excelled in its grasp of the technical legal questions which had been raised, or in the chilling irony with which he dwelt upon the pretensions of the defendants. At the close of his argument the spectators, and there were many, without distinction of sex, pressed forward (the Court having adjourned on the conclusion of his speech) to congratulate him on his effort. You will pardon me, dear Freeman, when I state that I felt the compliment as a tribute to a noble Pennsylvanian—and not only that, but one of the "frosty sons of thunder" from your own Alleghanies.

Before leaving Washington, having referred to the executive and judicial public servants, I shall come down to inferior topics, and give sketches of members of Congress. I was somewhat amused by the sketches given by your late worthy member, Mr. Barker, but they were mostly of New England men, and I have concluded to refer to members nearer home, and shall probably commence with the member from your district in my next letter. MACSHANE.

THE LATEST AND BEST NEWS is that R. H. Singer, who, upon his entree into our town, reduced the price of horse-shoeing one-third, has determined still to lead the van, and offers to work 10 per cent. lower than the lowest for cash, and insures satisfaction. Persons needing tire on their wagons or carriages, can save dollars by giving him their work. "A dollar saved is a dollar gained," and the way to save many of them is to get your blacksmithing done with Mr. Singer, at the west end of town. Mr. S. is also selling I. C. Singer's unequalled Tire and Band Bender—a machine which saves a great amount of time and labor and bends the Tire round and true—of which Wm. Myers, of Altoona, says he would not take $100 and do without. Any amount of testimony just like that can be shown, but the machine is its own best recommendations to a mechanic. Persons wishing to purchase should call on or address R. H. SINGER, Ebensburg. Territory for sale. For terms address I. C. SINGER, Box 35, Altoona, Pa.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

STILL ANOTHER CHANCE.—Owing to the pressure upon our columns and in hopes of adding more names to the list, we have concluded to defer the publication of the "Roll of Honor" until next week. This will positively be the last time we will publish a list of the kind, and therefore we trust that all who have not yet paid their subscriptions will send along the greenbacks by Tuesday next. Two dollars will be accepted as the subscription price, until that time, from all who have received our paper since the commencement of its publication.

EXCUSE.—The late hour at which "Mordecai's" communication was received, as well as the stress upon our columns, precludes the possibility of its publication this week. A similar reason will account for the keeping over until next week of matter in "Sku Bal's" letter, which will not spoil in the meantime. Will insert all in our next issue.

TARDY JUSTICE.—The patriotic and heroic career of Adjutant JAMES C. NOON, of this county, as well as his early and tragic death on the field of Fredericksburg, is well known to the readers of the Freeman. To one outside of the "ring" it was difficult to understand why the promotion of Lieut. NOON, in his life time, fell so far short of his deserts, and why, dying as he did in the van of his command, at the post of duty, no fitting testimonial was ever bestowed upon one who had so nobly done his duty.

Justice, in some measure, has at last been done. A few days since his sister was the recipient of a commission to a Captaincy for meritorious conduct on the field of Fredericksburg," and also a further promotion by commission as Major, as an additional testimonial of his gallantry. These acts of justice, tardy though they be, will be appreciated by all who knew him whose memory now receives this empty honor. Indeed, it is all his government can now do for one who combined in beautiful harmony the characteristics of the soldier and the gentleman. We shall give place to the letter of Gen. Humphreys transmitting the commissions in our next issue.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.—The following cases were disposed of in the Court of Common Pleas last week:

Elizabeth Cowan, (widow), and Margaret Cowan, Nancy Lavina, John, Millard, Erdin and Thomas Linn Cowan, by their guardian J. M. Smith, vs. Barnabas Barto and Harris heirs—Ejectment. Verdict for plaintiff, with six cents damages and six cents costs. Motion for a new trial.

Levi B Hornberger and W M Herrington, adm'rs of Jacob Brallier, dec'd, vs. Caleb Miller—Sci Fa. Verdict for defendant.

Emma Pringle, Adm'x of John Pringle, dec'd, vs. G W Pringle—Replevin. Verdict for defendant.

Geo S King vs. John G Miles, Ex'r of Dr Peter Shoenberger, dec'd—Sci Fa. Verdict for plaintiff.

G C K Zahm vs. Mary Murray et al—Sci Fa. Verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $430 Motion for new trial.

Pat'k Garraghan vs. Pa R R Co—Appeal. Verdict for defendants.

Lydia Bendon and others vs. Wm Bendon and others—Ejectment. Verdict for plff.

EXAMINATION.—Through the politeness of Rev. E. Bush we had the pleasure of participating in a private examination, on Monday last, of the pupils at St. Francis' College, Loretto. We were delighted with the progress and bearing of the young men, as they recited in their various classes. As this institution the merely ornamental is made to yield to the useful, and every means is employed to confer a practical education. The pupils in Bookkeeping exhibited a knowledge of the principles governing mercantile transactions truly astonishing, while the classes in Geometry and the Mathematics generally showed the utmost familiarity with the definitions and workings of this abstruse branch. In short, all the classes acquitted themselves admirably. We defer a more extended notice of this school, its aims and objects, to a future number of the Freeman.

VISITORS.—The past week has been extremely prolific of kindly greetings from visiting friends. Johnstown and Altoona were well and respectably represented by gentlemen attracted hither by pleasant as well as mournful occurrences. We cannot of course name the many friends we met, but editorial courtesy demands that we should acknowledge the visits of our Johnstown correspondent, "Sku Bal," and our no less esteemed friend, H. C. Dern, of the Altoona Tribune. They are both "hunky" even though neither of them can whistle "Yankee Doodle" correctly.

TRAGEDY.—During the early stage of the match game between the Kickenepawling and Mountaineer B. B. Clubs, on Thursday last, a young man noticed another behind the "battery" and shot him in the mouth with a pocket pistol. As the load, however, went down the victim's throat, and made a new hole, he did not seem to suffer from the injury inflicted, although he afterwards, to regret to say, "went out" on a "foul tip." Several tragedies of like character were enacted under similar circumstances during the progress of the game, but no serious injuries resulted.

SMASH-UP.—A young man named Hughes, accompanied by his sister, attempted to cross the railroad at this place in a buggy, on Saturday last, just as the gravel train was backing out, and the consequence was that the vehicle was struck by the locomotive and whirled into "smithereens." The occupants of the buggy escaped by jumping out.

A WOOD CHOPPER was killed in South Middleton township, Westmoreland county, a couple weeks since, by being struck on the back of the neck by a falling sapling. The axe he was using was the same one another was chopping with when killed under similar circumstances, some months ago.

EDITORIALITIES, LOCAL AND GENERAL.—Fierce—the controversy between the Monitor and Journal in the "ancient Borough."

Forty dollars were stolen from the house of Mr. Edelman, below Hollidaysburg, last week.

The premises of our friend, Ignatius Heim, in Blairsville, were recently disturbed by burglars.

We regret to learn that Col. H. K. Sloan, of Indiana, was recently thrown from his horse and severely injured.

Icy—The Register's notice of Louis W. Hall's nomination by the Blair County "Blockhead" Convention.

The Uniontown "Genius of Liberty" is in mourning for the death of its respected editor, Col. E. G. RODDY.

The organ grinder and his daughter were in town last week. The "damsuel" was very expert in catching pennies on her tamborine.

The horse thief Stevens has escaped from the Clearfield county jail. The Sheriff has offered a reward of $50 for his apprehension.

A snug birth.—A few days since a female passenger on the Allentown and Easton train gave birth to a child. No extra fare was exacted.

Funny.—The Johnstown Tribune is attacking, and the Johnstown Democrat defending, the radical borough authorities of Johnstown.

In the promising radical county of Armstrong there were only eight indictments for fornication, &c., at the last Quarter Sessions. What "grand moral ideas."

A man named Smith has been committed to the Indiana jail, charged with attempting to commit a rape on a young lady in Strongstown, some twelve miles from this place.

The dwelling house of Mr. Henry Ow, in White township, Indiana county, with the greater part of its contents, was destroyed by fire on Monday morning of last week.

Gen. Sheridan, like Butler, is producing order out of disorder in New Orleans and Louisiana generally.—Lewistown Gazette. Wonder if he will produce spoons, too, as Gen. Butler did?

L. W. Hall, Esq., has the inside track for re-nomination as a candidate of the radicals in his district, which extends from the Allegheny Mountain to within a half dozen miles of Harrisburg.

Wrong.—The Johnstown Tribune blames President Johnson for not hanging Jeff. Davis, when its editor knows he had no power to do so. Why don't it blame the radical judge who permitted his escape?

The "Lewistown Gazette" gives a piece of poetry on Jeff. Davis, which ends thus:

"We hope when Jeffy gets to hell
He'll meet with Horace Greeley."

There's a God and morality radical for you!

The most extensive preparations have been made at Altoona for celebrating the 4th of July. The Lancaster Band will be in attendance, and two full batteries of artillery from Philadelphia have been promised for the occasion.

Daniel Kinney, of Tyrone, "a poor man, with a large and helpless family, who was twice severely wounded in the service of the Penna. R. R. Co.," announces himself as a candidate for Sheriff of Blair county, against John M'Keage, the radical nominee.

Parties in quest of a man who had stolen a horse somewhere in Bedford county, were at Summerhill, this county, on Saturday evening last, just twenty-four hours behind the thief, who had passed through that village with his booty the evening previous. A person answering the description of the thief is said to have passed through this place on Sunday.

"Lines written at a Mother's Grave," by George D. Prentice, are, at the request of a lady friend, reproduced on the first page of the Freeman this week. They are far, very far, above the productions of the day, and worthy of the greatest poets of the century. We advise those of our readers who admire and appreciate the beauties of poesy, to read and re-read this short but beautiful effusion.

IN the perusal of the other notices given in our columns each week people may have overlooked the fact that H. A. Shoemaker & Co. still keep store in the old stand on High street, and sell goods of every description as cheap, all things considered, as they ever did. In addition to dry goods, hats, caps, boots, shoes, groceries, etc., this firm keeps a complete stock of household furniture, and make the sale of carpets a specialty. Go and see them.

PRENTICE gives the following sensible advice: "Never buy goods of those who don't advertise. They sell so little that they have to sell dear." The inference to be drawn is that the man who advertises most sells the cheapest, and the fact to be adduced is that V. S. Barker, being one of the most liberal advertisers, is of course the very dealer to patronize. If you have any doubts upon the subject a visit to his establishment will dispel them.

A RELIC OF THE PAST.—The proprietor of the Philadelphia Ledger designs issuing a fac simile of the first copy ever printed of the Ledger. It will be quite a literary curiosity, although it is not expected that it will say anything about the handsome stock of goods that Mills & Davis are just now selling to all comers at the lowest cash prices. Great fellows for giving bargains, the aforesaid M. & D., and everybody should encourage them in well doing.

ONE reason why the world is not reformed is, because every man is bent on reforming others, while but few think of reforming themselves. We can't see, however, what that has got to do with the fine stock of clocks, watches, jewelry and notions which C. T. Roberts, on High street, has now in store in great profusion, and we are sure it wouldn't make a "dif of bitterence" to any one who has the good sense to buy at this establishment.

THE ONLY EXCITEMENT.—Court is over, the show has gone by, the match games of base ball have been played, and the only excitement now in our town is occasioned by the exceedingly low prices at which J. M. Thompson is still selling all kind of dry goods, groceries, &c. We hope this excitement will be kept up, and that all will lend a helping hand by patronizing Jim.

BASE BALL.—The match games of base ball between the Kickenepawling Club of Johnstown and the Mountaineer Club of this place, on Thursday, and between the Mountain Club of Altoona and the Mountaineer Club, on Saturday, came off here according to programme, and were both well contested and exceedingly pleasant trials of skill. The visiting Clubs both met with kindly consideration and treatment at the hands of the knights of the bat and ball here, and albeit they were both worsted in the friendly encounters on the field of contest, we doubt not they were highly pleased with their visits to the mountain village. We append the scores of the two games:

Umpire—L. L. Christy, Juniata Club, Hollidaysburg. Scorers—L. Rodgers, Mountaineer; J. M. Erb, Mountain. Time occupied by game—3 hours and 5 minutes.

At the conclusion of each of the games the Mountaineer Club was presented with base balls by Captain Hunt, of the Kickenepawling Club, and Captain Caldwell, of the Mountain Club, which were received on behalf of the former Club by Sam'l Singleton, Esq., who also presented to the victors and the vanquished in both instances beautiful boquets, the gifts of the ladies of Ebensburg. After a reciprocal three cheers and a tiger for each other, and a united demonstration of like character for the ladies, the umpires, etc., the respective Clubs adjourned to the Mountain House, where good cheer and kindly intercourse held high carnival until the shrill whistles of the locomotive summoned the visiting Clubs to the depot to take their departure for their respective homes.

J. WARREN BOODY, ESQ.—This gentleman died very suddenly near Newton Hamilton, on Tuesday, the 4th inst., aged about 45 years.

Mr. Boody's advent to this neighborhood was, if we recollect aright, when, under a claim to lands by Z. G. Brown, it was undertaken to connect the coal and iron mines around where Bennington Furnace now stands with the Pennsylvania canal at Hollidaysburg, by means of what was then known as the "Bennington Rail Road." The road was located and a large amount of the grading done, when it was abandoned. Afterwards the same mineral deposits were reached by the Penna. Rail Road.

A few years since, when the Cannel coal fever raged in Jackson township, Mr. Boody again appeared upon the stage, and in behalf of himself and the company which he represented, purchased the farm of Joseph Burkett for some $35,000—this being the only land upon which a vein of the Cannel coal had been opened. In addition to this, a large quantity of other land was purchased, and the mineral rights to still more; a railroad was contemplated and explored to connect with the main road, at the north of Saltlick Run, near Mineral Point. Afterwards the Company commenced to operate six miles west of Ebensburg, on the south side of the Pittsburgh turnpike, but after boring to a great depth without success, the labor ceased and the enterprise was abandoned. Subsequently Mr. Burkett resumed the ownership of his land, the Company having paid him some $10,000.

These repeated failures did not cure Mr. Boody of his passion for seeking mineral treasures. His next enterprise was in the mountains near the town of Newton Hamilton, Mifflin county, where it is asserted that gold in considerable quantities was found. Mr. Boody, taking advantage of the furore incident to these golden prospects, was surveying of his territory to purchases, and was actually in the woods at his mines, when he was overtaken by death.

He was a man of exceedingly active and somewhat visionary mind, and though he often failed in redeeming his promises and fulfilling his contracts, even those who were the losers were willing to admit the honesty of his intentions.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

JOHNSTOWN, JUNE 17, 1867.

Dear Freeman.—A young man "scarce 19 years old," having in his possession a valuable bay gelding, was last week arrested by Major Byckman. The sinister countenance of the young man and inquiries he was making led to the suspicion that the animal was stolen. The owner of the horse is expected to arrive to-day.

A poetical drunk was confined in the "oven" yesterday, and it was amusing to listen to his strange jumble of quotations from standard and machine rhymsters, whilst in a state of partial bewilderment. He came down to prose to-day when the Burgess presented the usual steep bill charged for accommodations at the hotel de jug.

One of the circus men assaulted a young man at the ticket wagon of Whitbey's grand humbug, on Monday, and a policeman happening to be in the vicinity at the time, the obstreperous individual was brought up and shortly afterwards let down on payment of $11 and costs.

A little girl named Jenkins, who was left in charge of an infant by its mother, Mrs. Davis, during her temporary absence on Friday week, fell with the babe in her arms into a boiler of hot water which had been carelessly left standing on the floor, and both children were severely, but not dangerously, scalded.

A sufficient amount of stock having been subscribed, the Johnstown Water Works will be commenced at an early day. It is the intention to get a supply of pure water from the Stony Creek, several miles up, and bring it by means of aqueducts to that portion of the 4th ward known as Sharpsburg, and from thence force it, by the aid of a turbine wheel, into a reservoir between the hills.

Mr. W. A. Murray has returned to our town after a protracted absence in Missouri and Tennessee. His appearance indicates that the climate of the south agreed with him.

Mr. Wm. G. Triece, of Blairsville, has purchased the photograph material of W. Green, and has commenced the business of photographing in all its details. Mr. T. has devoted much time and money to the acquiring of a perfect knowledge of his art, and having examined several specimens of a new style of picture, known as the Cabinet card picture, executed by him, I can truly say I never saw anything to excel them. In this mundane sphere of ours it is uncertain when the final farewell may have to be taken of those near and dear to us, and it is a source of great consolation to bereaved ones to have the life-like shadow after the substance has gone from mortal vision forever. I advise all your readers to visit Mr. Triece's gallary, third floor, corner of Main and Franklin sts.

Yours, &c., SKU BAL.

MARRIED.

May 28th, 1867, by Rev. J. S. McMurray, C. W. MITCHELL, of Lewistown, Mifflin county, to Miss LOUISA RANDOLPH, of Altoona.

DIED.

Near Summerhill, this county, on Friday last, Mrs. BARBARA SHARP, in the 77th year of her age. The deceased was for full forty years a resident of Cambria county, and was a most exemplary woman—esteemed by all who knew her for her kindness of heart and amiability of disposition. She was the mother of Mr. Powell Sharp, of Altoona, who is now, we believe, the only surviving member of the family. Her remains were brought to this place on Sunday last by special train, attended by a large concourse of mourning relatives and sympathizing friends, and interred in the Union graveyard.

In Williamsburg, Blair county, June 3d, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Eliza M. Stevens, Mrs. JULIA PINNELL, widow of the Rev. Jesse Pinnell, late of the Baltimore Conference, in the 82d year of her age. She was a worthy member of the M. E. Church for 67 years.

NOTICE.—All persons knowing themselves indebted to me by note or book account of over six months standing, are requested to pay up within thirty days of this date, or they will find their accounts in the hands of an officer for immediate collection. A strict compliance with this notice will save costs. GEO. HUNTLEY.
Ebensburg, June 12, 1867.

DISSOLUTION.—The partnership heretofore existing between S. A. Criste and Dr. H. C. Christy, in the hotel business, has this day been dissolved by mutual consent—S. A. Criste retiring from the firm. The business will be continued by Dr. H. C. Christy, who will pay all debts that are now or may become due.

CICERO, XANTIPPE, BETSY ANN, AND THE REST OF THE FAMILY.—We fell in during a chance journey of ours, a few months ago, with an old Kansas man, who had moved his numerous family from "Varmount" to the Western wilds. It being late, we tarried with him all night. We were surprised at the progeny which he owned. One was named Demosthenes, another Cicero, another Pericles, another Aristophanes, another Euripedes, another Phidias, and another Praxitiles. Still another was named Appollo Belvidirus, and he, as he told us, was the "humblest one of the lot," and sure enough, he was a scraggy-looking specimen. These were the boys. The girls came in with such names as Aspasia, Phryne, Melpomene, Xantippe, Massalina, Cleopatra, Agrippina, and the last one was named Betsy Ann. We asked the old man why he happened to give the children such unusual names, and indeed we were astonished at the extent of what seemed to be his classical learning. He informed us that it happened like this: A showman came along with wax figures on exhibition, and the names of the figures were so "nice" that he "writ them down, and named his children according to the list afterwards." "But, how came it," we inquired, "that you named one of your girls Betsy Ann?" "Well," he replied, "the wax figures run out, and I had to fall back and do the best I could out of my own head." Hurrah for Varmount!—Grass Valley National.

REV. PETER JAMESON, while attending a camp meeting near Pontiac, at a time when the territory of Michigan was comprised of two circuits, the reverend, possessing quite as much zeal as physical strength, late at night sought in vain in the preachers' tent for a place to lay his mortal remains to rest. Slightly piqued that no place had been reserved for him, having borne the burden and heat of the day, the reverend had recourse to stratagem. Retiring to the woods a convenient distance for effect, mounting a large log he poured forth upon the night air one of those magnificent strains of music for which the early Methodist tunes were so justly celebrated. The effect was electrical. The sleepers half awakened by the music, rushing out, pursued the sound to the woods. Having collected the crowd, Jameson called upon a brother to pray, slid off the log, and retiring to the vacant tent, appropriated the best place and most blankets, and quietly resigned himself to silence and meditation.

THE boarders in a fashionable house were assembled in the public parlor one evening, when a rather antiquated maiden lady, who never seemed to have any employment but admiring her jewelry and dresses, lisped out the remark that she loved a rainy day, and always availed herself of it to arrange her drawers. "So do I," growled out an old sea captain. "I overhaul my drawers, and shirts too, sometimes, and sew on a button or a string where it is needed." Mademoiselle did not faint; but there was an angry rustle of silks as she swept out of the room, leaving all to exchange a suppressed titter for a good, hearty laugh.

MEDICAL PREPARATIONS.

POLAND'S Magic Bilious Powders.

This Preparation is the discovery of Rev. J. W. POLAND, formerly Pastor of the Baptist Church in Goffstown, N. H.—a man dearly beloved by that denomination throughout N. England. He was obliged to leave the pulpit and study medicine to save his own life, and his MAGIC POWDERS are one of the most wonderful discoveries of modern times. It is the GREAT LIVER and BILIOUS REMEDY, which completely throws in the shade all other discoveries in medicine; and it affords him much gratification that they receive the unanimous approbation of all who have tested them. The Magic Bilious Powders are a POSITIVE CURE FOR LIVER COMPLAINT in its most aggravated form, and an immediate corrector of all BILIOUS DERANGEMENTS. Excellent for Headache, Constipation, Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin, Drowsiness, Dizziness, Palpitation, Heartburn, and a most wonderful Cure and Preventative of Fever & Ague

(We advise all who are troubled with this fearful malady to always keep the Powders on hand ready for immediate use.)

Here are a few important particulars:—1st. They are the great specific for Bilious Affections. 2d. They are the only known remedies that will cure Liver Complaint.—3d. They are the only known remedy that will cure Constipation. 4th. The Powders are so thorough in their operation that one package will be all that the majority of those using them will require to effect a cure. 5th. They are a mild and pleasant yet the most effectual cathartic known. 6th. They are the cheapest and best medicine extant, as they can be sent by mail to any part of the globe for the price, 50 cents.

Circulars, containing certificates, information, etc., sent to any part of the world free of charge. ☞ Sold by all Druggists, or by mail on application to

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE!!

This great remedy for all DISEASES OF THE STOMACH is the discovery of the inventor of Coe's valuable Cough Balsam, while experimenting for his own health. It cured Cramp in the Stomach for him which had before yielded to nothing but choloform.

The almost daily testimony from various parts of the country encourage us to believe there is no disease caused by a disordered stomach it will not speedliy cure. Physicians endorse and use it. Ministers give testimony of its efficacy; and from all directions we receive tidings of cures performed.

Dyspepsia it is sure to cure. Heartburn one dose will cure. Sick Headache it has cured in hundreds of cases. Headache and Dizziness it stops in thirty minutes. Acidity of the Stomach it corrects at once. Rising of the Food it stops immediately. Distress after Eating one dose will remove. Cholera Morbus rapidly yields to a few doses. Bad Breath will be changed with half a bottle.

IT IS PERFECTLY HARMLESS!

Its unprecedented success is owing to the fact that it cures by assisting Nature to reassert her sway in the system.

Nearly every dealer in the United States sells it at ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

CARD TO INVALIDS.—A Clergyman, while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the Cure of Nervous Weakness, Early Decay, Diseases of the Urinary and Seminal Organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by baneful and vicious habits. Great numbers have been cured by this noble remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine, in a sealed envelope, to any one who needs it, Free of Charge. Address,
